

Team Name

Score

www.woodenspoonquizzes.co.uk

Pub Quiz #355

Technology

1. Which competitive sport had its hi-tech clothing banned in 2010?
2. The abbreviation OS usually stands for what?
3. Which 2014 film, see's Benedict Cumberbatch play real life British cryptanalyst, Alan Turing?
4. When was the first iPhone released? July 2005, December 2006 or June 2007
5. Who recorded a song called 'Computer Love' from the album 'Computer World' in 1981?
6. What were first broadcast on the BBC on 5 February 1924?
7. What 2012 pop song became the first YouTube video to reach one billion, and the two billion views?
8. Mark Zuckerberg dropped out of which university to launch Facebook?
9. What is the name of Elon Musk's rocket manufacturing business with which he aims to colonise Mars?
10. How many foreign languages does Bill Gates speak?

Pub Quiz #355

Technology

1. Which competitive sport had its hi-tech clothing banned in 2010?

Swimming

2. The abbreviation OS usually stands for what?

Operating System

3. Which 2014 film, see's Benedict Cumberbatch play real life British cryptanalyst, Alan Turing?

The Imitation Game

4. When was the first iPhone released? July 2005, December 2006 or June 2007

June 2007

5. Who recorded a song called 'Computer Love' from the album 'Computer World' in 1981?

Kraftwerk

6. What were first broadcast on the BBC on 5 February 1924?

The Greenwich Time Signal (the hourly 'pips' on the radio)

7. What 2012 pop song became the first YouTube video to reach one billion, and the two billion views?

Gangnam Style by Psy

8. Mark Zuckerberg dropped out of which university to launch Facebook?

Harvard University

9. What is the name of Elon Musk's rocket manufacturing business with which he aims to colonise Mars?

SpaceX

10. How many foreign languages does Bill Gates speak?

None