

TRUE OR FALSE

Name: _____

Score: _____

1. Hotmail took its name from a webpage markup language
2. The cocktail Harvey Wallbanger contains a blend of orange juice, vodka & galliano
3. 95 is the only prime number to fall between 90 and 100
4. In Shakespeare's works the words. 'A Horse! A horse! My Kingdom for a horse' were spoken by King Lear
5. The smallest Canary Island, situated off the Atlantic coast of Africa, is Lanzarote
6. In yachting, the America's Cup used to be called the 100 Guinea Cup
7. Salvador Dali painted Guernica
8. The Simpsons creator, Matt Groening's parents are called Homer and Marge
9. The Three Musketeers were called Athos, Aramis and Aortos
10. The mathematical formula for the area of a parallelogram is $b \times h$
11. As well as being the creator of James Bond, novelist Ian Fleming wrote the children's story, Mary Poppins
12. There are only four words in the English language that start with the letters 'dw'
13. The bumblebee spreads royal jelly over its eggs
14. Spanish crooner Julio Iglesias was a professional footballer before switching to singing
15. The actress Nicole Kidman has dual citizenship in Australia and the UK
16. Toronto is the largest city in Canada by population
17. 10 miles is further than 15 kilometres
18. Hearing is the first of the senses to develop in humans.

TRUE OR FALSE

1. Hotmail took its name from a webpage markup language
2. The cocktail Harvey Wallbanger contains a blend of orange juice, vodka & galliano
3. 95 is the only prime number to fall between 90 and 100
4. In Shakespeare's works the words. 'A Horse! A horse! My Kingdom for a horse' were spoken by King Lear
5. The smallest Canary Island, situated off the Atlantic coast of Africa, is Lanzarote
6. In yachting, the America's Cup used to be called the 100 Guinea Cup
7. Salvador Dali painted Guernica
8. The Simpsons creator, Matt Groening's parents are called Homer and Marge
9. The Three Musketeers were called Athos, Aramis and Aortos
10. The mathematical formula for the area of a parallelogram is $b \times h$
11. As well as being the creator of James Bond, novelist Ian Fleming wrote the children's story, Mary Poppins
12. There are only four words in the English language that start with the letters 'dw'
13. The bumblebee spreads royal jelly over its eggs
14. Spanish crooner Julio Iglesias was a professional footballer before switching to singing
15. The actress Nicole Kidman has dual citizenship in Australia and the UK
16. Toronto is the largest city in Canada by population
17. 10 miles is further than 15 kilometres
18. Hearing is the first of the senses to develop in humans.

#Facts

- Q1. Originally Hotmail was spelled HoTMaiL to emphasise the relationship with HTML
- Q2. Legend has it the drink was named after a surfer called Harvey, who'd drink so much of it, he'd run into walls
- Q3. The only prime number between 90 and 100 is 97
- Q4. King Richard III said the words
- Q5. The smallest is called Ela Hierro
- Q6. It was changed in 1851 when a US Schooner called America won it
- Q7. It was Pablo Picasso
- Q8. He also has an older sister called Lisa and a younger sister called Maggie.
- Q9. They were Athos, Aramis and Porthos
- Q10. You multiply the length of the base by the perpendicular height

- Q11. He wrote Chitty Chitty Bang Bang
- Q12. They are dwindle, dwarf, dwell and dweeb
- Q13. It's the honeybee. Large amounts of royal jelly turn an ordinary egg into a queen
- Q14. He played in goal for Real Madrid before a car accident finished his football career
- Q15. She was born to Australian Parents in Hawaii, so has dual citizenship in Australia and the USA
- Q16. It has a population of over five and a half million people
- Q17. 10 miles is roughly 16 kilometres
- Q18. Touch develops first