

Rugby

Wooden Spoon Quizzes

Which country did Hugo Porta play Rugby for?	Argentina
Which England cricket captain was capped for England at rugby in 1975?	Mike Smith
Which Irish doctor was capped for rugby union and football?	Kevin O'Flanagan
Which Irish rugby winger was described by Bill McLaren as 'an electric eel'?	Simon Geoghegan
Which rugby league club is nicknamed 'The Chemics'?	Widnes Vikings
Which rugby league club is nicknamed 'The Wires'?	Warrington Wolves
Which Welsh rugby union player was a champion hurdler?	Nigel Walker
Who captained the 1967 touring All Blacks Rugby Union team?	Brian Lochore
Who did Jonah Lomu play International Rugby Union for?	New Zealand
What is the nickname of the Australian Rugby League team?	The Kangaroos
What was unusual about the 1973 Rugby 5 Nations championship?	5-way tie
Name the player who scored in every game for two consecutive seasons in Rugby League?	David Watkins
How long is a Rugby Union match?	80 minutes
Which two teams contest the Varsity Match?	Oxford and Cambridge
In Rugby Union, what is the colour of Australia's shorts?	Green
Which player holds the record for most caps for Wales in Rugby Union?	Alun Wyn Jones
What is the name given to the dance performed by 'The All Blacks'?	The Haka
Which position is found in Rugby Union but not in Rugby League?	Flanker
Which team is known as 'The Pumas'?	Argentina
Which team are known as 'The Springboks'?	South Africa
The 2009 film, Invictus, follows the South African Rugby Team in the 1995 World Cup. 'Invictus' translated from Latin means what?	Undefeated or unconquered
How much value did a 'try' originally have in rugby?	0 - it allowed the attacking team to 'try' a goal kick
Rugby balls were originally plum-shaped as they were made from what unusual material?	Pig bladders
Which American song, sung during a Twickenham rugby match in 1988, has become associated with England Rugby ever since?	Swing Low, Sweet Chariot