

Science and Nature

Pot Luck Quiz 25

1. Calcium Oxide is commonly known by what name?
2. Which poison is sometimes called prussic acid?
3. Which well-known everyday drug was originally developed from willow bark?
4. Which chemical element has the symbol Zn?
5. Who is credited as the inventor of the electrical battery and the discoverer of methane?
6. The Soviet Cosmonaut, Alexei Leonov was the first to do what?
7. What is Albert Einstein's mass-energy equivalence formula?
8. Which element did Henry Cavendish discover in 1766?
9. The LHC is the world's largest and most powerful particle collider in the world. For what do the letters 'LHC' stand for?
10. Which word describes the bending of light as it enters and leaves glass?
11. What is minus 273.15 degrees Celsius known as?
12. Which is the brightest planet when viewed from Earth?

Name /
Team Name

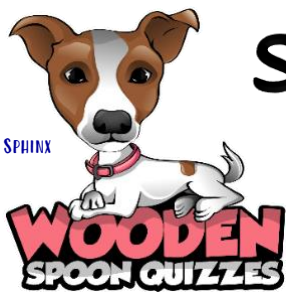

Score

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____
5. _____
6. _____

7. _____
8. _____
9. _____
10. _____
11. _____
12. _____

Science and Nature

Pot Luck Quiz 25

1. Calcium Oxide is commonly known by what name?
2. Which poison is sometimes called prussic acid?
3. Which well-known everyday drug was originally developed from willow bark?
4. Which chemical element has the symbol Zn?
5. Who is credited as the inventor of the electrical battery and the discoverer of methane?
6. The Soviet Cosmonaut, Alexei Leonov was the first to do what?
7. What is Albert Einstein's mass-energy equivalence formula?
8. Which element did Henry Cavendish discover in 1766?
9. The LHC is the world's largest and most powerful particle collider in the world. For what do the letters 'LHC' stand for?
10. Which word describes the bending of light as it enters and leaves glass?
11. What is minus 273.15 degrees Celsius known as?
12. Which is the brightest planet when viewed from Earth?

Quizmaster Answers

- | | |
|---------------------|--------------------------|
| 1. Quicklime | 7. $E = mc^2$ |
| 2. Hydrogen Cyanide | 8. Hydrogen |
| 3. Aspirin | 9. Large Hadron Collider |
| 4. Zinc | 10. Refraction |
| 5. Alessandro Volta | 11. Absolute Zero |
| 6. Space Walk | 12. Venus |