

Science & Nature

Quiz 31

1. What is a mercury mixture used in dentistry?
2. Which natural red dye is obtained from the dried bodies of certain Mexican insects?
3. In mathematics, what is LOG short for?
4. For which drug is diamorphine the technical name?
5. What is the term for when light bends around an object?
6. Which planet has the most moons?
7. What is the first element on the periodic table?
8. 'The Voyage of the Beagle', published in 1839, is the journal of which scientist?
9. What is deoxyribonucleic acid more commonly known as?
10. In physics, what kind of energy is produced by the motion of an object?
11. Which country is considered to be the birthplace of modern medicine?
12. What are the only two elements that are liquid at room temperature?

Name /
Team Name

Score

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____
5. _____
6. _____

7. _____
8. _____
9. _____
10. _____
11. _____
12. _____

Scan me
for more quizzes

Quiz 31

1. What is a mercury mixture used in dentistry?
2. Which natural red dye is obtained from the dried bodies of certain Mexican insects?
3. In mathematics, what is LOG short for?
4. For which drug is diamorphine the technical name?
5. What is the term for when light bends around an object?
6. Which planet has the most moons?
7. What is the first element on the periodic table?
8. 'The Voyage of the Beagle', published in 1839, is the journal of which scientist?
9. What is deoxyribonucleic acid more commonly known as?
10. In physics, what kind of energy is produced by the motion of an object?
11. Which country is considered to be the birthplace of modern medicine?
12. What are the only two elements that are liquid at room temperature?

Quizmaster Answers

- | | |
|----------------|-------------------------|
| 1. Amalgam | 7. Hydrogen |
| 2. Carmine | 8. Charles Darwin |
| 3. Logarithm | 9. DNA |
| 4. Heroin | 10. Kinetic energy |
| 5. Diffraction | 11. Alexandria, Egypt |
| 6. Saturn | 12. Mercury and Bromine |

Scan me
for more quizzes
↓

