

| | |
|---|------|
| In the 1980s, a Korean company tried to buy unwanted dogs from American animal shelters to turn them into soup | BS |
| Hyenas have a sense of humour | BS |
| Crushed-up Egyptian mummies were used in paintings and drunk as a health cure | True |
| When the man who made Frisbees popular, Walter Fred Morrison died in 2002, he had his ashes mixed with plastic to make several Frisbees | True |
| Some people's sweat is coloured bright yellow, blue, or green | True |
| A US 'Ugly Law' banning people with severe disfigurement or disabilities from going out in public or face being arrested was not repealed until the 1970s | True |
| It is impossible for a hamster to get drunk | True |
| The ancient Greek name for the giraffe was the 'camelopard' because it was believed to be the offspring of a camel and a leopard | True |
| You can always find room for dessert after a big meal because the body has different limits for different foods | True |
| In 1986, NASA planned to send Jim Henson's Big Bird into space, but Bird's costume proved too large for space travel | True |
| People who spend most of the day in dim lighting can lose the ability to remember and learn | True |
| Studies indicate that almonds eaten in moderation daily may reduce the severity of moderate facial wrinkles in postmenopausal women | True |
| An English pub cancelled a charity snail race after icy weather made potential competitors too slow to compete | True |
| Lunar cement, a cement mixed with urea, a substance found in human urine, is the perfect construction material for building on the moon | True |
| Penguins watching a plane fly overhead will keep tilting their heads back until they fall over | BS |
| The pulp from the wood of the Kentucky coffeetree (Gymnocladus Dioicus) was used by Native Americans to treat insanity | True |
| Charles Darwin's mother, Susannah, was the daughter of Josiah Wedgwood, the wealthy founder of Wedgwood and Sons, makers of fine china and porcelain | True |
| A shark once leapt out of the water to attack a helicopter | BS |
| You can't hum a tune while holding your nose closed | True |
| Spitting on a blood stain will help remove it | True |

True or BS

Wooden Spoon Quizzes

| | |
|---|------|
| After EastEnders, so many kettles are turned on Britain borrow power from France | True |
| God and Jesus are the only characters in The Simpsons to have five fingers on each hand | True |
| The human brain has enough memory for 300 years of television | True |
| The Wizard of Oz's full name is Oscar Zoroaster Phadrig Isaac Norman Henkle Emmannuel Ambroise Diggs | True |
| A litre of ice is lighter than a litre of water | BS |
| Since 1972, Don Gorske from Wisconsin has eaten more than 32,000 Big Macs | True |
| Louis Braille, who invented the language that bears his name, was fully sighted | BS |
| London, Ontario, is on a river called the Thames | True |
| 'M E X I C O C I T Y' was a postal acronym in the Second World War meaning 'May Every Kiss (X) I Can Offer Carry Itself To You' | True |
| There is a species of bacteria that only lives in hairspray | True |
| The heavy-metal band 'Hatebeak' has a parrot as its lead singer | True |
| Farts in jars were used to cure plague victims | True |
| Pet birds become anxious and scared if their cage is located near or in the centre of a room | True |
| Peanut shells can be used as a clean, cheap, and renewable biofuel for residential and industrial boilers | True |
| In 1926, a citizen from Mississippi sent a raccoon to President Calvin Coolidge, suggesting that he serve it as Thanksgiving dinner instead of a turkey | True |
| The UK spends five times as much on pet food as it does on baby food | True |
| The flightless southern cassowary is the world's most dangerous bird | True |
| Following an increase in monsoons causing floods in an Indian province, two frogs married in a ritual to bring rain were later divorced to contain the further fury of nature | True |
| Jack Bauer killed 112 people in the first five seasons of 24 | True |
| The first advert on Channel 5 was a Chanel No 5 Perfume | True |
| In 2014, more bets were put on who killed EastEnders Lucy Beale than the Champion Leagues final | True |
| One crucial reason the Korowai people of Indonesia live in tree houses as high as 114 feet above the ground is to protect themselves from mosquitoes | True |
| The chances of dying while hang gliding are about 1 in 560 | True |
| A fungus that grows on hibernating bats, forcing them to use up body fat, is starving millions of bats to death each year | True |

True or BS

Wooden Spoon Quizzes

| | |
|--|-------|
| Pixar accidentally deleted Toy Story 2 halfway through making it | True |
| Keira Knightley's first name is a spelling mistake by her mother | True |
| Uncle Ben's rice was invented in Britain by a German chemist | True |
| Jackie Robinson was court-martialled while serving as a lieutenant in the US Army in 1944 for refusing to sit in the back of a bus | True |
| In the 1800s, physicians believed that pain had curative powers, so patients would pay to be beaten up | True |
| Elizabethan noblewomen in England blackened their teeth to demonstrate that they were rich enough to afford lots of sugar | True |
| Salt water evaporates faster than pure water | BS |
| The famous gunfight at the OK Corral in 1881 was fought over a woman | BS |
| Every 3-6 days a human stomach gets a new lining | True |
| Wojtek, a Syrian brown bear served in battle with the Polish army during WWII | True |
| China used more cement in three years than the US did in the whole of the 20th century | True |
| COVID-19 restrictions in 2020 sparked the creation of speakeasy gyms like the underground bars during the Prohibition era | True |
| Bill Clinton learnt Jujitsu before meeting Yasser Arafat in case he tried to hug him | True |
| While playing Achilles in the film 'Troy', Brad Pitt injured his Achilles tendon | True |
| The DVLA has banned the number plate VA61ANA but has allowed PEN15 | True |
| Dolphin's milk is as thick as toothpaste | True |
| If you were an only child during World War II, you were exempt from front-line service in the British Forces | False |
| A Zookeeper in Paderborn, West Germany, was killed when a constipated elephant let loose and defecated on him | False |
| The venom of a small scorpion is much more toxic than the venom of a large scorpion | True |
| J. Edgar Hoover liked to fire FBI Agents whose palms were sweaty when shaking hands - he saw it as a sign of weakness | True |
| Domestic Cats hate lemons and other citrus scents | True |
| Chalk is made from Algae | True |
| According to the Bible, Jesus was an only child | False |
| The name of the footwear firm ADIDAS stands for All Day I Dream About Sex | False |

| | |
|---|------|
| The ex-wife of George Lucas, Marcia Lucas, has won an Oscar, but as of 2023, George Lucas has not won an Oscar | True |
| A native tribe in South America called the Yanomami fart as a greeting | True |
| The painter Rembrandt was so destitute in 1656 that he decided bankruptcy and was forced to sell his wife's grave | True |
| Reg Foggerly, a 62-year-old grandfather, survived for 6 days without equipment, food, or water in Australia's inhospitable Outback. He did this by eating black ants | True |
| Jingle Bells was originally written as a Thanksgiving, not a Christmas holiday song | True |
| The Kākāpō, the world's only flightless parrot, has a unique defensive strategy. When threatened, the Kākāpō will sit down and do absolutely nothing | True |
| Driving while angry uses more petrol | True |
| The musician Frank Zappa called his daughter Moon Unit | True |
| In China they describe a dog's bark as 'wang wang' rather than 'woof woof' | True |
| Pencil Sharpeners kill more people every year than sharks | BS |
| The first female ever to be inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame was Aretha Franklin | True |
| Apart from humans, ants are the only species to wage war on each other | True |
| Four armed police officers in Oregon confront a burglar only to discover a rogue roomba robotic vacuum cleaner | True |
| The first UFO sighting in America was recorded on 01 March 1639, by the governor of the Massachusetts Bay Colony, John Winthrop | True |
| All of Shakespeare's six known signatures are spelt differently and not one is spelt 'William Shakespeare' | True |
| Before 1924, selling heroin over the counter was legal in the US | True |
| Unilever, in the mid-1990s, launched Persil Power, a laundry detergent so powerful that it destroyed clothes | True |
| Orangutans love to eat soap | True |
| Following an increase in monsoons causing floods in an Indian province, two frogs married in a ritual to bring rain were later divorced to contain the further fury of nature | True |
| In 1982, Prince William was the first direct royal heir to the British throne to be born in a hospital | True |
| The Moko Moko Mokolet is a quirky Japanese candy. You pour a 'special' powder into cute mini toilets, add water and drink it with a straw | True |

| | |
|--|------|
| Scientists have discovered hyperaccumulators, also called 'metal trees', that naturally absorb and thrive on metallic elements like nickel, zinc cobalt, and gold in the soil | True |
| Honeybees can be trained to find land mines by associating the smell of sugar with explosives | True |
| Jack the Baboon worked as a signalman in the South African railroad for 9 years in the 1880's - he never made a mistake and was paid twenty cents a day, and half a bottle of beer each week | True |
| Finland hosts an annual heavy metal knitting contest | True |
| Between 1978 and 1980, Frenchman Michel Lotito ate a whole Cessna 150 light aircraft | True |
| The long jump for horses was once an Olympic Sport | True |
| Mary, Queen of Scots, was accused of murdering her husband in 1568 based partly on the fact that she opted to play golf rather than mourn her dead husband, Lord Darnley | True |
| There are craters on Mars called Bristol, Corby, Crewe, Tooting, and Woking | True |
| In 2010, the British Army parachuted spy dogs into Afghanistan to flush out insurgents | True |
| Australian James Harrison's blood has saved the lives of over 2 million people | True |
| The term 'Fake News' was word of the Year in 2017 | True |
| Harpreet Devi has been driving his Taxi in India backwards for over 15-years | True |
| Strawberries contain less sugar than lemons | True |
| According to Irish Folklore, to cleanse a house of infectious disease, 'Drive several sheep into the house and have them sleep there for at least three nights' | True |
| A litre of ice is lighter than a litre of water | BS |
| The genetic condition called adermatoglyphia means a person is born without grooves and patterns on their fingertip pads, making it impossible to produce a fingerprint | True |
| So that you can check out the cleanliness and safety of stalls without having to walk inside, Tokyo now has totally transparent restrooms in their public parks | True |
| If you have an itch on the right side of your body, you can relive it by looking in a mirror and scratching the left side of your body and vice versa | True |
| Ancient Egyptian priests were among the first known barbers, cutting hair to ward off evil spirits that were thought to enter the body through the tips of the hair | True |
| Rescuers in the UK led a stranded dog to safety by dangling a sausage from a remote-controlled drone | True |
| Peanut shells can be used as a clean, cheap, and renewable biofuel for residential and industrial boilers | True |

| | |
|---|-------|
| In 1926, a citizen from Mississippi sent a raccoon to President Calvin Coolidge, suggesting that he serve it as Thanksgiving dinner instead of a turkey | True |
| In 1710, the boys of Winchester College rioted over inadequate beer rations | True |
| The flightless southern cassowary is the world's most dangerous bird | True |
| In 1996, Ringo Starr appeared in a Japanese advertisement for apple sauce, as 'Ringpo' means 'apple' in Japanese | Truth |
| In the US, tattoo artists are more strictly regulated than doctors | BS |
| The SPIDER CRAB is one of the few Crustaceans able to spin a web | BS |
| The Kardashians are directly descended from the bloodline of Genghis Khan | BS |
| Coca-Cola was once sold as a medicine capable of curing morphine addiction, dyspepsia, neurasthenia, headache and impotence | Truth |
| In 2010, a partially deaf man from Sheffield was cured after doctors removed a tooth that had been stuck in his ear canal for 33 years | Truth |
| By weight, hamburgers cost more than new cars | Truth |
| In Oblong, Illinois, it is illegal to make love while fishing or hunting on your wedding day | Truth |
| In the Arctic, mice in cream is a speciality dish | Truth |
| 1847, Sir Charles Isham, a vegetarian spiritualist, introduced garden gnomes to England in the hope that they would attract real gnomes to his garden | Truth |
| Mozart only had one ear for music, the other ear was strangely shaped - what doctors call a 'Mozart Ear' - and he kept it covered with an earwig | Truth |
| The first video game to be considered a part of the horror genre was called KILLER SHARK in 1972. On the Sega system, the simple game had players shooting at a giant shark with harpoons. It was even featured in a seaside arcade in the 1975 smash-hit film JAWS | Truth |
| Couples in Birmingham can be fined £25 if they have sex on the steps of any church after the sun goes down | Truth |
| PRINCE PHILIP sometimes hid a radio in his top hat when he attended the Ascot Races so that he could listen to the ball-by-ball cricket commentary | Truth |
| Some types of glue are banned in table-tennis bats because they make the ball travel 20mph faster | Truth |
| In the early days before the law insisted on truth-in-advertising, Heinz claimed that its baked beans 'prevent appendicitis', 'cure malaria', 'tighten loose teeth'. and 'heal tuberculosis' | BS |

| | |
|--|-------|
| 'Man the Lifeboats' is the naval command to hold back the women and children until all the men are safely aboard | BS |
| John Lennon and Yoko Ono sent out April Fool's press release announcing they'd both be having sex-change operations in 1970 | Truth |
| Gillian Anderson was voted GIRL MOST LIKELY TO GO BALD by her American classmates | Truth |
| When signing into hotels, Johnny Depp has been known to use the alias Mr Drip Noodle | Truth |
| In 1997, domestic goddess Martha Stewart was suspected of stealing fish, after publishing instructions on HOW TO POACH SALMON | BS |
| Crocodile Milk is said to have the same effect as Prozac | BS |
| Working elephants love bananas so much that they have been known to muffle their bells with mud to facilitate banana theft | Truth |
| The earliest Barbie Dolls have nipples | Truth |
| In the Great Fire of London in 1666, only six deaths were recorded | Truth |
| Enid Blyton wrote over 3,000 books while she was alive, and at least one after she was dead | BS |
| Albert Einstein was born in 1899 in the Bavarian village of Glum. His father was experimental biologist Frank Einstein, and his mother was the bride of Frank Einstein | BS |
| Had a Yorkshire parson not changed his name to Brontë in honour of Lord Nelson, his famous writer daughters would have been Charlotte, Emily and Anne Brunty | Truth |
| Prussian Field Marshal Blücher, the hero of Waterloo, confessed to the Duke of Wellington that he was pregnant, with an elephant, by a French grenadier | Truth |
| In 2003, Sharwoods launched a 'Bundh' range of sauces, not realising that the literal translation of the Punjabi bund is 'arse' or 'anus' | Truth |
| Beer is officially classed as a food in Bavaria | Truth |
| A goldfish will turn white if left for long enough in a darkened room | Truth |
| The world's first office computer was used by Lyons Tea Houses | Truth |
| In Ancient Greece, the punishment for an adulterous male was the insertion of a large radish into his rectum | Truth |
| Hitler and General Franco both only had one testicle | Truth |
| A difficult time for Edinburgh dogs came in the 1700s when a butcher's dog went mad and magistrates ordered the slaughter of all such animals, even dogs which led the blind | Truth |

| | |
|--|-------|
| Beefeaters who live in the Tower of London have been refused household insurance because of their Tower Hamlets postcode | Truth |
| Bus drivers in Sutton Coldfield were fed up with the constant snoring of pensioners who dropped off and made a terrible racket, often drowning out the sound of the engine. So noisy customers were given a blast of a special herbal spray | Truth |
| The 'British Medical Journal' has reported at least one case of a man partially inflating himself when attempting to blow up party balloons | Truth |
| Ibizan fisherfolk believe it is bad luck to allow a priest onto a fishing boat | Truth |
| Isaac Newton dropped out of school early because his mother wanted him to be a farmer | Truth |
| Alaska's Sarah Palin is the eldest of 21 children | BS |
| Rodents in France were ordered in front of a court in Autun during the 16th century for destroying barley crops. Their wily lawyer managed to get the case adjourned, urging a cat curfew. He said moggies were making his clients too scared to attend the hearing. The town's people refused and so the rats went free | Truth |
| Sir Walter Raleigh spent years in prison writing his projected five-volume 'History of the World' but never got further than 1300 BC | Truth |
| Rapper Kanye West paid $350,000 to have a painter recreate the Sistine Chapel ceiling in his home | Truth |
| A bear was the first living creature to test a supersonic ejection seat | Truth |
| Charles I's favourite joke was to place his court dwarf Jeffrey Hudson, 18 inches tall, between two halves of a loaf of bread and pretend to eat him | Truth |
| In 1474, the authorities in Basel, Switzerland, sentenced a rooster to death for THE HEINOUS AND UNNATURAL CRIME OF LAYING AN EGG which they took to be the work of Satan. The bird was promptly burned at the stake in front of a large crowd | Truth |
| The greatest distance walked by a person continuously balancing a milk bottle on their head is 80.96 miles | Truth |
| In North Scar, Minnesota, it is illegal to buy a bell while wearing fancy dress | BS |
| Arthur Conan Doyle was awarded his knighthood not for his Sherlock Holmes books but for a pamphlet he issued in defence of the British concentration camps during the Boar War | Truth |
| Bolton's job centre banned a company from advertising for a 'friendly' catering manager, arguing that this would discriminate against 'unfriendly' people | Truth |
| The KFC slogan 'Finger-Lickin' Good' was mistranslated as 'Eat your fingers off' in Chinese | Truth |

| | |
|--|-------|
| According to research, the average bed lasts longer than the average marriage | Truth |
| The most dangerous piece of gardening equipment is the watering can. It's been found to be fatal if accidentally swallowed | BS |
| Enid Blyton was banned by the BBC for nearly 30 years | Truth |
| The original artificial Christmas Trees, which were developed in the French Court in the 18th century, were made from goose feathers dyed green and stuck on wires | Truth |
| Lobsters are also known as elephant prawns, because of their habit of hanging on to the tail of the crustacean in front as they march across the sea floor, like elephants round a circus ring | Truth |
| In 1959, the finger and thumb of what was said to be the hand of a yeti were smuggled into England in actor James Stewart's underwear | Truth |
| Bram Stoker, creator of Dracula, slept in a coffin | BS |
| Gerbils can smell adrenaline. As a result, the animals were installed in airport security areas to detect terrorists | True |
| The smallest Armadillo is the pink fairy armadillo. It looks like a king prawn with a furry stomach | True |
| Along with apes and dolphins, elephants also have self-awareness and can recognise themselves in a mirror | True |
| Dog lovers GORAN and KARMEN TOMASIC were so upset when their pet Dalmatian, Bingo, was run over, that they painted their house white with black spots in his memory | True |
| The Muffin Donkey Sanctuary on Hayling Island was closed by Health and Safety Officers from the RSPCA when they found that the donkeys were being allowed to smoke | BS |
| The phrase THE EYES OF A TIGER refers to its ears | True |
| Cows are often fed magnets to reduce the damage caused by any metal objects they swallow | True |
| Octopuses have been seen to eat their own arms | True |
| If a goose is shot, its partner will return to stand vigil next to its corpse | True |
| Elephants are the only animals that humans have successfully trained to do headstands | True |
| The paradoxical frog is considerably smaller as a frog than it is as a tadpole. And it grunts like a pig | True |
| A cockatoo from Nuneaton spent two weeks trying to hatch a bowl of Cadbury's Creme Eggs | True |
| Many cats in Ancient Egypt wore earrings | True |
| Tigers cannot stand the smell of alcohol and are more likely to attack you if they can smell it on your breath | BS |
| Frogs vomit by throwing their stomachs inside out and cleaning them with their front legs | True |

| | |
|---|-------|
| Gambling has been illegal in Norway since 1978, when King Olaf V bet the Prime Minister a million krone he wouldn't dare ban it | BS |
| China is the only country where you can get jet lag on foot. If you stepped across the border from China to Afghanistan, you would lose 3½ hours | Truth |
| In Arizona, any misdemeanor committed while wearing a red mask is considered a felony? | Truth |
| Deep-fried monkey toes are eaten in Indonesia | Truth |
| In Brooklyn, New York, it is illegal for a donkey to sleep in a bathtub | Truth |
| Sir Nils Olav, the Colonel-in-Chief of the Norwegian Royal Guard, is a king penguin who resides in Edinburgh Zoo | Truth |
| Some cultures kiss by biting off one another's eyelashes | Truth |
| In Taiwan, cars drive on the right or left depending on the day of the week | BS |
| In Japan, it's possible to buy used knickers from vending machines in the street | Truth |
| The detention centre at Guantanamo Bay has a gift shop | Truth |
| A course to teach people how to carry out the KISS OF LIFE on dogs has been launched in Chile | Truth |
| Officials in New Zealand allowed a couple to call their child NUMBER 16 BUS SHELTER | Truth |
| Travellers seeking a haircut in Hong Kong seeing the familiar red and white striped pole, may find themselves about to enter a 'massage parlour' | Truth |
| In the UK we have the saying 'It's raining cats and dogs', but in Norway they say that 'It's raining mice and fish' | Truth |
| To cope with an ageing population, Glasgow's double-decker buses are now equipped with Stannah stairlifts | BS |
| In the 16th century it was the custom to tattoo marine charts onto the backs of the biggest members of the crew, a system known as 'tat-nav' | BS |
| In the 1976 Olympic Games, all female athletes were sex-tested, except for one - Princess Anne | Truth |
| In 1540, a malevolent moth was brought before court, charged over the destruction of an expensive tapestry. The textile munching terror was found guilty and beheaded | Truth |
| In 1998, 10,113 American women insured themselves against having a virgin birth at the Millennium | Truth |
| In 1981, an Indonesian man was jailed for seven years for marrying 121 women | Truth |
| DON a pointer from Germany, found fame in the early 1900s by being able to bark seven words including CAKE | Truth |
| In 1379, a Mr and Mrs Coke named their daughter 'Diot' | Truth |

True or BS

Wooden Spoon Quizzes

| | |
|--|-------|
| In the 1860s, an American doctor invented the machine gun | Truth |
| Jane Austen's parents gave her brother Edward away, to a couple who took a fancy to him | Truth |
| Pierce Brosnan once drove a bus for a living | BS |
| When asked what he had against Cheese, OSCAR WILDE stated that 'Decomposing Corpses are not wholesome eating' | BS |
| In 2003, at Amsterdam's Schiphol airport, a strange-smelling suitcase was found, containing 2,000 baboon's noses | Truth |
| Up until 2012, in the Disney Employee Handbook, moustaches and beards were not allowed due to their Communist connotations | Truth |
| In 1954 in Louisville, Kentucky, a young boy reported the theft of his bicycle to a local policeman. The cop told him to take up boxing to get his own back on the thief, which he did, and he went on to become Muhammad Ali, heavyweight champion of the world | Truth |
| In 1924, childcare expert DR SPOCK won an Olympic Medal in Rowing | Truth |

NEWS HEADLINES! TRUE OR BS?

| | |
|--|--------------|
| Tired Driver Falls Asleep at the Wheel and Crashes into Bed Shop | Truth (2013) |
| Biting Nails can be Sign of Tenseness in a Person | Truth (1995) |
| Sports Car Runs on Porridge | BS |
| Lumpy Frump Dumps Grumpy 'Trump' for 'Gump' | BS |
| DIY Ladder Deaths Fall by Half | BS |
| World Hide and Seek Champ Found Dead in Cupboard | Truth (1995) |
| Gran with False Teeth Bites Alsatian | Truth (2015) |
| Rod Stewart's Football 'Broke My Nose' | Truth (2012) |
| Bishop Attacks Childless Couples | Truth (2000) |
| Zoo Lion Addicted to Fish and Chips | BS |
| Feminists Demand Union Jack is Renamed Union Jill | BS |
| Firefighters Rescue Man Stuck in Teapot | Truth (2012) |
| Elderly Couple Hospitalised After Squirrel Attack | Truth (2015) |
| Girl Eats 40,000 Washing Up Sponges | Truth (2012) |

True or BS

Wooden Spoon Quizzes

| | |
|---|--------------|
| Driverless Car in Road Rage Attack | BS |
| Bouncy Castle Conman Lets Down Kids | Truth (1998) |
| Hitler Played Golf in Bunker | Truth (2008) |
| Gordon Ramsay Sex Dwarf Eaten by Badgers | Truth (2013) |
| Dog Named Trigger Shoots Owner | BS |
| Stolen Painting Found by Tree | BS |
| Donald Trump's Face Found in Butter | Truth (2011) |
| Freddie Starr Ate My Hamster | Truth (2015) |
| Bananas and Oranges Linked to Violent Crime | Truth (2001) |
| Llama Drama Ding Dong | Truth (2015) |
| Teenage Girl Falls Down Manhole While Texting | Truth (1986) |
| Sardines Save Stranded Potholers | Truth (1996) |
| Yank Drive Bottles Up 25,000 Nazis | Truth (2013) |
| Mafia Boss Escapes in Wheelchair | Truth (2009) |
| Man Finds Wife Working in Brothel | Truth (1999) |
| Jogger Hit by Deer Hit by Car | Truth (1944) |

| | |
|---|-------|
| Enid Blyton is widely reported to have enjoyed playing tennis in the nude | Truth |
| JRR Tolkien took the name for one of his hobbit from Birmingham surgeon and inventor of cotton wool, Dr Samson Gamgee | Truth |
| John Steinbeck's dog ate the first draft of his novel 'Of Mice and Men' | Truth |
| One of WALT DISNEY'S favourite hobbies was planning elaborate train crashes on his huge model railway? | Truth |
| Caesar & Cleo were the early stage names of Sonny and Cher Bono | Truth |
| Forensic students in the 1860s would photograph the eyes of murder victims and look for an image of the perpetrator | Truth |