

Name /
Team Name

Score

True ✓ or False ✗ Celebrities

Lady Gaga once revealed that her hit single "Poker Face" is about hiding her true desires—specifically fantasizing about women while being intimate with men.

☐ ✓ True

☐ ✗ False

Eyeblink tattoos have become a beauty trend, with celebrities like Michelle Keegan and Coleen Rooney among those embracing it.

☐ ✓ True

☐ ✗ False

Swedish pop group ABBA nearly changed their name because ABBA is also the name of a major pickled-herring company in Sweden.

☐ ✓ True

☐ ✗ False

Actor Clint Eastwood is allergic to horses, despite starring in numerous Westerns.

☐ ✓ True

☐ ✗ False

Sir Anthony Hopkins, Catherine Zeta-Jones, and Richard Burton all share Welsh heritage.

☐ ✓ True

☐ ✗ False

World War I officer T.E. Lawrence—famously known as Lawrence of Arabia—was born in Wales in 1888.

☐ ✓ True

☐ ✗ False

Michael Jackson's hair famously caught fire during a 1984 Pepsi commercial shoot, leading to lifelong health issues

☐ ✓ True

☐ ✗ False

Sylvester Stallone has received over 30 Golden Raspberry (Razzie) nominations for worst performances and has won 10 of them.

☐ ✓ True

☐ ✗ False

A "microcelebrity" is someone who gains fame primarily through the internet and is often called an e-celeb.

☐ ✓ True

☐ ✗ False

Hollywood star Joan Crawford reportedly used boric acid for her eyes and washed her hair with raw eggs as part of her beauty routine.

☐ ✓ True

☐ ✗ False

Paris Hilton believed in Santa Claus until she was 17 years old.

☐ ✓ True

☐ ✗ False

Samuel L. Jackson's middle name is Leroy.

☐ ✓ True

☐ ✗ False

QUESTION	ANSWER	DID YOU KNOW?
1. Lady Gaga once revealed that her hit single “Poker Face” is about hiding her true desires—specifically fantasizing about women while being intimate with men.	1. True	1. Gaga has described “Poker Face” as a song about bisexuality and the game of concealment in romantic relationships.
2. Eyebrow tattoos have become a beauty trend, with celebrities like Michelle Keegan and Coleen Rooney among those embracing it.	2. True	2. The procedure is often referred to as “microblading,” and it's become a semi-permanent makeup staple.
3. Swedish pop group ABBA nearly changed their name because ABBA is also the name of a major pickled-herring company in Sweden.	3. True	3. The band had to get permission from the fish company to use the name, but eventually kept it!
4. Actor Clint Eastwood is allergic to horses, despite starring in numerous Westerns.	4. True	4. Eastwood is allergic to horses and often took medication to manage his allergy during filming.
5. Sir Anthony Hopkins, Catherine Zeta-Jones, and Richard Burton all share Welsh heritage.	5. True	5. All three iconic actors were born in Wales and have proudly spoken about their roots.
6. World War I officer T.E. Lawrence—famously known as Lawrence of Arabia—was born in Wales in 1888.	6. True	6. Lawrence was born in Tremadog, Wales, though he identified as English.
7. Michael Jackson's hair famously caught fire during a 1984 Pepsi commercial shoot, leading to lifelong health issues.	7. True	7. The incident caused severe burns and is believed to have contributed to Jackson’s later health struggles.
8. Sylvester Stallone has received over 30 Golden Raspberry (Razzie) nominations for worst performances and has won 10 of them.	8. True	8. Despite Razzie awards, Stallone has been nominated for Oscars and remains a beloved action star.
9. A “microcelebrity” is someone who gains fame primarily through the internet and is often called an e-celeb.	9. True	9. Microcelebrities build personal brands on platforms like YouTube and TikTok.
10. Hollywood star Joan Crawford reportedly used boric acid for her eyes and washed her hair with raw eggs as part of her beauty routine.	10. True	10. Crawford was known for extreme beauty regimens and even wrapped her furniture in plastic to keep it pristine.
11. Paris Hilton believed in Santa Claus until she was 17 years old.	11. True	11. Hilton has admitted she was quite sheltered and believed in Santa well into her teens.
12. Samuel L. Jackson’s middle name is Leroy.	12. True	12. His full name is Samuel Leroy Jackson, one of Hollywood’s most recognizable actors.