

Pot Luck

Quiz 85

Less 'University Challenge,' More 'Drunk Guessing Championship.'

- 1. Which shipping company owned the Titanic?
- 2. In 1939, the city of Glasgow banned which item from pubs, declaring it "too dangerous"?
- 3. In Arthurian legend, who was said to have thrown Excalibur into the lake?
- 4. By what name is the 16th-century French physician and astrologer Michel de Notredame more commonly known?
- 5. Bushido was the traditional code of conduct followed by which class of Japanese warriors?
- 6. Saddle soap is used to clean and condition which natural material?
- 7. In English folklore, 'Bruin' is an old name for which animal?
- 8. By what name is Anne Maurice better known?
- 9. Whose television launch on April 20, 1964, was famously disrupted by a major power cut?
- 10. Which sitcom character's name is now used to describe an item that's had all its parts replaced?
- 11. What filmmaking tool, used to mark the beginning of a scene, is said to have been invented by Australian director F.W. Thring?
- 12. Which internationally respected awards were founded through the will of Swedish chemist Alfred Nobel?

QUESTION ANSWER DID YOU KNOW

- Which shipping company owned the Titanic?
- 2. In 1939, the city of Glasgow banned which item from pubs, declaring it "too dangerous"?
- 3. In Arthurian legend, who was said to have thrown Excalibur into the lake?
- 4. By what name is the 16th-century French physician and astrologer Michel de Notredame more commonly known?
- 5. Bushido was the traditional code of conduct followed by which class of Japanese warriors?
- 6. Saddle soap is used to clean and condition which natural material?
- 7. In English folklore, 'Bruin' is an old name for which animal?
- 8. By what name is Anne Maurice better known?
- 9. Whose television launch on April 20, 1964, was famously disrupted by a major power cut?
- 10. Which sitcom character's name is now used to describe an item that's had all its parts replaced?
- 11. What filmmaking tool, used to mark the beginning of a scene, is said to have been invented by Australian director F.W. Thring?
- 12. Which internationally respected awards were founded through the will of Swedish chemist Alfred Nobel?

- 1. White Star Line
- 2. Darts
- 3. Bedivere (Sir Bedivere)
- 4. Nostradamus
- 5. Samurai
- 6. Leather
- 7. Bear
- 8. The House Doctor
- 9. BBC Two
- 10. Trigger (from Only Fools and Horses)
- 11. The clapperboard
- 12. The Nobel Prizes

- The White Star Line was famous not just the Titanic but for pioneering luxury ocean liners, shaping early 20th-century transatlantic travel.
- In 1939, Glasgow banned darts from pubs because the sharp metal tips caused frequent injuries, leading to a public safety crackdown.
- 3. Sir Bedivere is one of King Arthur's most trusted knights and the one tasked with returning Excalibur to the Lady of the Lake, symbolizing the end of Arthur's reign.
- Nostradamus, originally Michel de Notredame, published The Prophecies in 1555, which remains widely read and debated for its predictions.
- The samurai followed Bushido, which emphasized honour, loyalty, and discipline, influencing Japanese culture deeply even today.
- Saddle soap combines mild soap and conditioners, making it perfect for cleaning and preserving the quality of leather saddles and other goods.
- In English folklore, Bruin the bear appears in tales like Reynard the Fox, often portrayed as strong but somewhat gullible.
- Anne Maurice, known as The House Doctor, revolutionized home decorating on TV by making stylish and affordable design accessible to everyday people.
- BBC Two's launch was famously delayed due to a major London power cut on April 20, 1964.
- 10. Trigger joked about using the same broom for 20 years despite replacing its head and handle—echoing the Ship of Theseus paradox.
- The clapperboard synchronizes audio and video during editing. F.W. Thring, a pioneer of early Australian cinema, is often credited with developing the first version of this now-standard device.
- 12. Alfred Nobel created the prizes to recognize achievements in peace, science, and literature—ironically after inventing dynamite.