

WOODEN SPOON QUIZZES

News and Affairs Quiz #002

Crafted with Care...

... Stirred to Perfection

1. Which trailblazing American abstract expressionist artist was killed in a tragic car crash on 11 August 1956, cutting short a revolutionary career?
2. In what year did iconic airline Pan Am finally run out of runway and officially declare bankruptcy?
3. Which vital global waterway reopened in 1975 after being shut for eight years because of war and conflict?
4. What's the official term for a violent conflict fought between groups within the same country?
5. Which US city throws the world's most famous Mardi Gras celebrations every year?
6. Which newspaper editor declared "If that's justice, then I'm a banana" after losing a libel case outside the High Court?
7. According to Ryanair boss Michael O'Leary, how many alcoholic drinks should passengers be limited to in airport bars?
8. Which Irish singer-songwriter publicly criticised Miley Cyrus in 2013, offering some very public "unwanted advice"?
9. Roughly how much did the heaviest person ever recorded weigh, measured in stones?
10. Which major global environmental award was launched in 2020 by Prince William and Sir David Attenborough?
11. Which highly contagious animal disease hit England in major outbreaks in 1967, 2001 and 2007?
12. When Ronald Reagan demanded "Tear down this wall," who was he directly challenging?

QUIZMASTER

News and Affairs
Quiz #002

Crafted with Care...

...Stirred to Perfection

QUESTIONS

1. Which trailblazing American abstract expressionist artist was killed in a tragic car crash on 11 August 1956, cutting short a revolutionary career?
2. In what year did iconic airline Pan Am finally run out of runway and officially declare bankruptcy?
3. Which vital global waterway reopened in 1975 after being shut for eight years because of war and conflict?
4. What's the official term for a violent conflict fought between groups within the same country?
5. Which US city throws the world's most famous Mardi Gras celebrations every year?
6. Which newspaper editor declared "If that's justice, then I'm a banana" after losing a libel case outside the High Court?
7. According to Ryanair boss Michael O'Leary, how many alcoholic drinks should passengers be limited to in airport bars?
8. Which Irish singer-songwriter publicly criticised Miley Cyrus in 2013, offering some very public "unwanted advice"?
9. Roughly how much did the heaviest person ever recorded weigh, measured in stones?
10. Which major global environmental award was launched in 2020 by Prince William and Sir David Attenborough?
11. Which highly contagious animal disease hit England in major outbreaks in 1967, 2001 and 2007?
12. When Ronald Reagan demanded "Tear down this wall," who was he directly challenging?

ANSWERS

1. Jackson Pollock
2. 1991
3. The Suez Canal
4. Civil war
5. New Orleans
6. Ian Hislop
7. Two
8. Sinéad O'Connor
9. Around 100 stones
10. The Earthshot Prize
11. Foot-and-mouth disease
12. Mikhail Gorbachev

FUN FACTS

1. 🎨 He was nicknamed "Jack the Dripper" for his paint-splatter style — a name that stuck harder than the paint.
2. ✈️ Pan Am once flew presidents, movie stars and even the Beatles — then vanished almost overnight.
3. 🚢 When it reopened, 15 abandoned ships known as the "Yellow Fleet" had to be freed first.
4. ⚔️ These wars are often the longest, messiest and hardest conflicts to truly end.
5. 🎉 The party is so big it can be seen from space — mostly thanks to the beads.
6. 🍌 Hislop later said the remark was made in anger — but it became one of the most quoted lines in British legal history.
7. 🛫 He argued it might stop fights at 30,000 feet — and on budget flights.
8. 🎤 The open letter went viral faster than Miley could swing on a wrecking ball.
9. 🏗️ That's heavier than a small car — and required reinforced hospital floors.
10. 🌍 Winners receive £1 million to help save the planet — not bad for going green.
11. 🐾 The 2001 outbreak led to millions of animals being culled and countryside lockdowns.
12. 🧱 Two years later, the Berlin Wall really did come down — proving speeches can echo through history.

