🦌 The hybrid children in Sweet Tooth were designed using a mix of practical effects, makeup, prosthetics, and CGI rather than being completely computer generated.

🌍 Much of the series was filmed in New Zealand, with its forests, mountains, and abandoned locations helping create the show's unique post-apocalyptic world.

🎬 Robert Downey Jr. was one of the executive producers behind Sweet Tooth.

📖 The series is based on the comic book series created by Jeff Lemire.

🦌 Gus's antlers became so iconic during production that they had multiple stunt and backup versions for filming different scenes.

🎭 The show deliberately softened some of the darker and more violent elements from the original comics to make the TV adaptation more emotional and family-friendly.

🦋 Many of the hybrid children were inspired by real animal behaviour, with actors studying animal movements and sounds before filming.

❄️ Season 3 introduced colder and harsher environments to reflect the darker tone of the final chapter of the story.

🎭 Christian Convery, who played Gus, spent long hours in makeup and costume preparation to transform into the deer-boy hybrid.

📖 The narrator's voice throughout the series was provided by James Brolin, giving the show its storybook-style atmosphere.
