ONE FOR THE BAR!

1. 🐬 Orcas are the largest members of the dolphin family — basically dolphins that hit the gym... hard.
2. 🦓 Even if you shaved a zebra (please don't), it would still be black underneath — the stripes are just a stylish coat!
3. 🦥 A sloth can take up to a month to digest a single leaf — meaning it could still be working on lunch long after you've forgotten what you even ate.
4. 🍷 "Chuddy" is proper Northern slang — say it down South and you'll get some very confused looks.
5. 🗣️ "Open Sesame" became so famous it's now basically the original voice-activated password.
6. 🏴‍☠️ Despite the legend, walking the plank wasn't that common — pirates usually skipped the theatrics and went straight to the splash.
7. 🗡️ If modern politics worked like this, we'd just need a sword in a car park to pick the next leader.
8. 🇺🇸 The name dates back centuries and has inspired everything from national pride to boxing shorts.
9. 🔥 He'd light fuses in his beard during battle to terrify enemies — subtlety clearly wasn't his thing.
10. 🖱️ A dream answer for lazy typists — no finger gymnastics required!
11. 🐃 The African buffalo completes the Big Five, and despite looking like a grumpy cow in battle armour, it is one of the most dangerous animals on the list.
12. 🐕 Chow Chows look fluffy and cuddly, but that dark tongue gives them serious "mystery villain in a dog costume" energy.
